COMMON MISTAKES

Take me to a page

When to use target=_blank??

- Please be careful using this!
- Why?
- It opens the link in a new window (or tab); this might be annoying for your visitors
- What would be a reason to use it?
- For external links (links leaving your site)
- Never use it for internal links! `<a href="#elementid"`

E-mail form example

Name:

E-mail address:

Message:

E-mail sent.

The script that sends this form (send.php) is written in PHP. Therefore, this form will only work if you put it on your website! This page uses AJAX to show the result in the  above. You can download this example here. Remember to change the destination address in the first line of the PHP script send.php.

w3schools: contact form intro, ajax intro

The w3schools form example does not include the php script to send the email! You can use that from my example!

Go to contact-form example

send.php

<?php
$to = "f.vanslooten@utwente.nl"; // default address, change this to your address!

TEST YOUR WEBSITE

- Use multiple browsers & devices and have someone else review it
- validator.w3.org
 - Errors about ALT-tags are less important
 - You can ignore most of the warnings
- Browser:
 - Right-click, Inspect Element
 - Web developer tools (all browsers, access via menu, or F12)

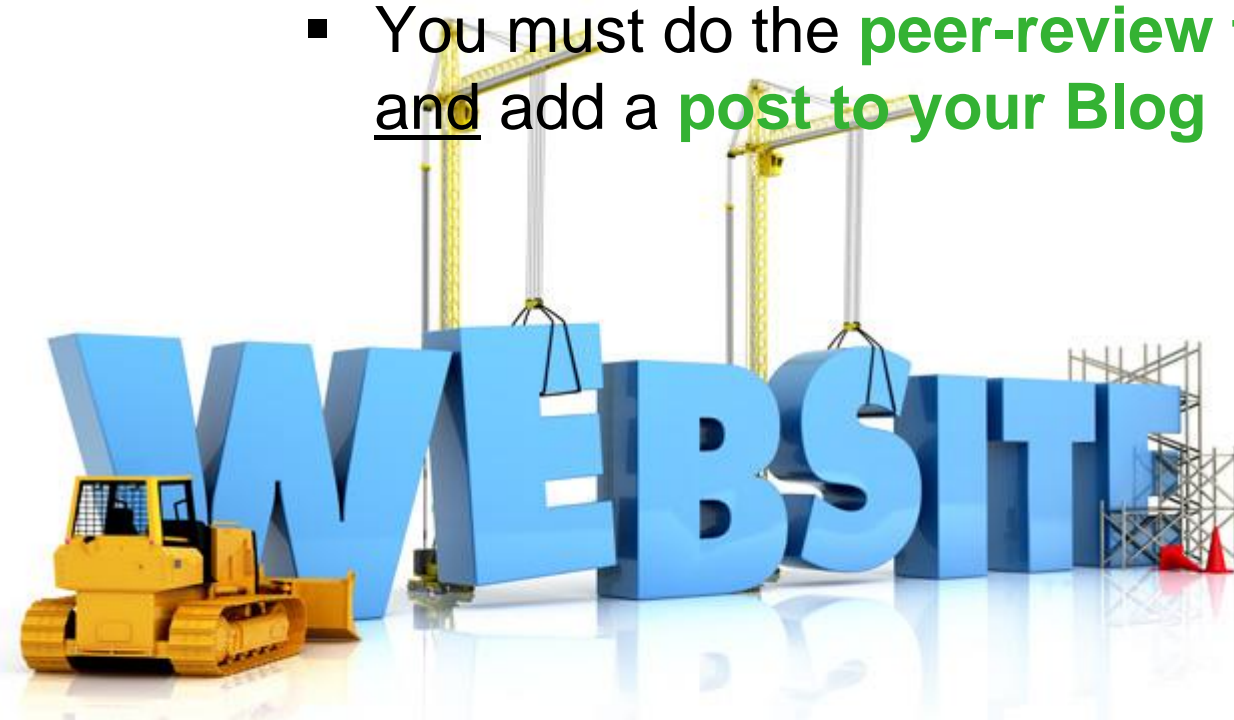

☰ > Tools > Developer tools (CTRL+Shift+I)

TEST & EVALUATION

TODAY = LAST SESSION

- I will be:
 - available for questions
 - walking around to review your site
- You must do the peer-review today/tomorrow (assignment 5) and add a post to your Blog

How will I know if I passed Web Technology:

- If you have 12 points: you're good
- If not: you must do one or more of the extra assignments. If you pass these and get 12 points, you are good
- If at Nov. 9th you still have less than 12 points:

Your 'case' will be discussed in a staff-meeting. You might fail the module, or if there are good reasons why you failed to do the assignments you may get additional time to fix the assignments.

 - Or present an image or poster and a short description
2. On your Blog, write a short report* about the closure of the project: the We Create Identity End Exhibition (which is Nov. 5th).

* What did you do during the expo? What did you consider interesting contributions (videos of other groups)? Who won the vote? Was that just? What comments/feedback did you get on your group's video? etc.
